

PROSECUTING STRANGULATION CASES USING EVIDENCE BASED PROSECUTION

This training will focus on using evidence based prosecution techniques for strangulation cases. Like other types of DV cases, victims are often absent or uncooperative with the State. Strangulation cases are particularly troubling because of the lethality risk to the victim. Thus, it is important to proceed with the prosecution even without the victim whenever possible. We will discuss the use of the forensic nurse examination report, medical providers, statements made to 911 or at the scene, and corroborating evidence from the scene.

Both presenters are experienced prosecutors who have been practicing law for more than 10 years and have handled a range of DV felony cases including strangulation cases and ranging from class 6 felonies to homicides.
